

Saturday

I was so happy that it was a holiday today. I could sleep late and do more of my own things.

I got up at 10:10a.m. and went to the bathroom, brushed my teeth, washed my face and hair. Then, I had breakfast and read the newspaper.

At 11:15a.m., I studied and did my homework as we would have so many tests in three weeks. Sometimes I really feel upset as I cannot ask anybody to help me with the homework questions.

At 1:00 p.m., I had lunch with my family. We talked about politics, school life and ourselves. We shared funny things, which made me feel good and warm.

I went to my friend's piano concert at 2:30 p.m. She played the piano very well. On the stage, her fingers moved quickly and fluently over the piano keys. I was totally attracted by the beautiful music which was so graceful and comfortable. It was as if I were entering into another world.

After the concert, I chatted with my friend and took photos. Then, I went shopping with my old classmate. At 7:00 p.m., we went to the restaurant at "FAI CHI KEI" to enjoy dessert. It was so good and delicious.

I went back home at 9:30p.m., feeling so tired, but I was happy and content. After taking a shower, I watched TV with my sisters till mid-night. I really had a good time today.
