

Chewing gums

When the plane was about to land, the flight attendant made an announcement to the passengers. "In order to make your ears feeling better, we suggest you to use the chewing gum."

After the plane had landed, one of the passengers asked the same flight attendant, "Your suggestion is really wonderful, my ears didn't suffer from any unwell feeling. But could you teach me how to take out the chewing gum from the ears?"

5 daughters

A middle-aged woman who applied for the position of a primary teacher was interviewed.

Boss: "Mrs Chan, you said you love children, so how many children do you have?"

Mrs Chan: "I have 5 daughters. They are all called May."

Boss: "In this case, how do you call a specific daughter then?"

Mrs Chan: "Oh, it's easy. I just call out her surname."

A substitute

Mrs Wong called her family doctor. "Hi, Doctor Lee, my daughter was playing with my pen while I was writing a letter 15 minutes ago, and she had accidentally swallowed it."

Doctor: "Ok, don't worry! I'll come to see her then!"

Mrs Wong: "Ah, can I be of any help before you arrive?"

Doctor: "Let me think ... it's a good idea to use a pencil as a substitute in your writing."
