

Railway timetable

Due to delays and cancellations of trains, a lot of angry passengers crowded at the platform of the train station. One of the passengers shouted angrily to a staff in the station, 'I think the train station doesn't really need to issue the railway timetable.'

The staff explained calmly, 'Yes, but if there isn't any railway timetable, how can the passengers tell how long the trains have delayed.'

The success rate

The patient is so worried about the operation and he asked the doctor, 'Doctor Chan, I want to know the success rate of this operation.'

The doctor answered, 'Oh, it's 50%.'

The patient continued, 'Do you have any confidence in the operation?'

The doctor answered confidently, 'You need to believe me. I must succeed this time because I failed 49 times before.'

The Commander's order

The Commander asked the soldiers, 'The one who likes music, please step forwards!'

4 obedient soldiers stepped forwards quickly.

The Commander continued, 'Good! So please lift this refrigerator to the kitchen on the fifth floor!'
